“ Dear Linda and Ernie and family,
Dan, Brielle, Brian and little Daniel and I send all of our deepest sympathy, empathy, love, and light. It was my honor to be Anthony's aide for 3 years. We were a force as a team! There are so many memories I have of my guy. I remember the first time I met him at the Wantage School at the end of his 8 th grade year. Diane thought Anthony and I would be a good match. She was right! He had me from the get go with that engaging smile and those big brown eyes. He gave me a run for my money literally when he would run too fast in gym class. He knew I would run after him and he cracked up about it. His laughter.... Oh my gosh. Once Anthony started laughing it was a domino affect throughout the class! He sure loved our school trips especially to High Point Park and the movies, and especially to restaurants! Anthony taught me so much, especially not to take myself too seriously. He is in my heart forever and I know he is in your's and always right by your side. You have been and will always be the best parents and family to Anthony. I promise he will be giving you signs that he is great and at peace. His dynamic, eternal, and loving energy is right there with you still. I promise. Love and light to you all, Mary Thompson ❤️❤️❤️🙏🙏🙏

“ *Dear Linda and family, I was so sorry to hear of Anthony's passing. I worked with Anthony when he was in Lawrence School, he had the biggest smile even as a little boy. He would make us laugh, sometimes even his look at me would make me giggle. Please, know my thoughts and prayers are with all of you at this sad time. But, I know there are so many memories to keep you all smiling.
Rest in peace, Anthony.
God's Blessings!

“ I loved our time together when I was taking care of you. I would make you eggs for breakfast and I would have to make an egg for Goldie too. I'll always remember reading stories to you and we would find something funny and both of us would get hysterical laughing until we cried or we would make up silly songs and sing them all afternoon. I love you Anthony and I will miss you.
