“ It’s fast approaching 8 years since you left us and not a day goes by that I don’t want to call you to talk about stuff going on whether it’s video games, movies, anime stuff. So much of myself that only you know and only you get. You were and still are my best friend. Morgan and I still keep your flame alive though. We talk about you quite a bit. In some ways it makes it feel like you’re still with us and in others makes the distance feel greater. Dad misses you a lot too, he wishes things had gone differently and that he was there for you in the end like how he was throughout the years. We all love and miss you. Hope you and your mom are making good on all that lost time. Love you both buddy.

“ Calvin was my brother and my best friend, I truly miss him every day and with a sad heart I continue on without my brother and my son. I will forever miss Calvin and the good and bad times we had over the years. My life is empty without Calvin and I don't think there will ever be as good and caring a friend to have like him. June 19th will never be the same for me and neither will be my birthday that is only a few days later.

Calvin and I lived in the same apartment and he helped me greatly and for that I will forever grateful, he as well will be missed by my four legged fur baby Lennon who still misses his Uncle Calvin. I raise the Horns for you Brother and give bold and mighty Hail to the Gods of War in your honour and memory my Brother; may Odin and Thor guide you in your darkest hour and bring you home to Valhalla my brother.

For I know our last words will be forever burned into my brain as we say our last goodbyes dear Calvin, I wish you hadn't left this mortal coil for I miss you and miss your laughter and humour, but I know your watching over us all and keeping us safe from the hall of hero's my brother, for now Calvin I say goodbye but this is not our last goodbye we will meet again in the Golden Halls of Valhalla and for that I say Hail my Brother and may the Gods be with you.

“ I met my second cousin at another funeral and introduced myself. I am Calvin A. Dolsay.

My father was Calvin E. Dolsay, It was a good memory as he led me and one of my grandsons around the fire house and showed him the trucks there.

It's hard to see another "Dolsay" go. June 19 was just a few days after my June birthday.

God bless Calvin.

“ Well it's mom, I hope you realized what a gift you were to me. From the beginning it's been you and I. You were my everything, the little bundle of joy. We had many great times together, and you and I know what they all were. I wish you reached out to me or any of us. You were so loved and I know you knew you were. Sunday was beautiful. You had many people stand up and share there memories of you. Many brought smiles to my face. I would trade places with you in a heartbeat. You were my sunshine, my only sunshine, you made me happy when skies were grey. You'll never know dear how much I loved you, I wish you never took my sunshine away. Until we are together again, Calvin, my heart will ache for you. Love you. Mom.

“Bubby, I knew from the 1st time I saw you that we were going to be best friends. You weren't just my nephew, you were and will continue to be my best friend. We were thick as thieves and your mom always called me "mother hen" lol. But that was just me always caring about you, worrying and making sure you were ok. And I want you to that never stopped. From Miranda and I helping teaching you how to walk with cheerios to teaching you how to drive, I was ALWAYS so proud of you. Thank you for always helping me when I needed it. To say I miss you terribly is an understatement. Words will NEVER EVER describe how much I miss and love you. I hope you and poppop watch over us all.
