“ What I remember most about Aunt Francis over the past 30 years is how much fun I had at the family dinners around the holidays and the much anticipated homemade pierogi. To Dan's delight, I still make them every year just like she and Mary taught me. She was quite thoughtful with her homemade Christmas gifts like our cross stitched matching aprons. I will wear mine in her honor while I make peirogi this year. love, Crystal Sleker

“ Frances was the most loving and giving person you could find she had a big heart and would do anything for anyone. She especially loved her family and she was a loving sister to me. I will miss her and am sorry she had so many medical problems at the end. When we were in school, she would practice her violin and I would my clarinet and we would play together. It was great to do that. I would call her Franya a polish name for Frances. Thank you Franya for being there for us. You are now a beautifull shining star in the sky and will be our angel watching over us all. God loves you.
