“ Dear Janet,

When I came to pastor Christ Community Church in 1991, Jere came often to our home to visit for a while. He always bore gifts for the girls (my wife and two daughters), often flowers or plants for the garden. He would regale us with tales from the orchard, which would usually end with the line, "They sure don't make things like they used to"!

One day, in a drenching rain, he turned up with two apple tree saplings, which he insisted we needed to plant right away! So we did. I don't live there now, but I can see when I drive by that they are still there, growing strong.

After a while, we lost touch, but I knew Jere was struggling more as the months came and went. I wish I knew he was in Newton Hospital. It took me back to see his obituary; we are the same age. May the Lord bless you richly as you are now the lone survivor of your nuclear family.
