“ I taught Jeremy in Middle School. Even at that young age he always showed maturity, kindness, humor, and respect well beyond his years. My condolences to his family and friends. I am so very sorry for your loss and for the loss to humanity. Rest in Peace, Jeremy.

“ Jeremy Jackson was one of the greatest people I can say I have ever met. There are very few people in the world that really cause such a big impact by doing the smallest of things. He was a man who loved so incredibly much and asked for nothing in return. He had that spark of adventure, the humor of an aged mastermind, and the heart of a hero. I've known Jeremy for roughly 3 years and I know I'm a better person for it. His laugh was such a contagious super power and everyone felt affected by it.

Jeremy was the best part about going to Graphic design. We shared incredibly goofy but tremendous inside jokes, and even invented our own language. This language consisted of the words: Jeremy, Jackson, Jack, and Howell. Despite the inherent chaos, we always knew what the other meant.

I had the privilege of spending most Friday nights of last year with him. Attending our underground-after school drawing club. We would draw, laugh, and smile. We shared incredible stories and made fun of the sillier things in life.

I will forever love and miss one of the best people I have ever met. Jeremy Jackson.
