“ My uncle Johnny was the only uncle I ever new growing up. He was my dads best friend and his brother. I remember when he came down to South Dakota and lived with us for a little while, I can't remember much, but I do remember his smile. I would do anything in this world to have gotten the chance to say I love you. We have may not been as close as I wish we could have been because he lived so far away just like the rest of my family. But I do remember the last words I did say to him and that was I love you. And I always will love you uncle ❤️ Forever and always
