“ My son, my wife, and I knew Larry for several years, and we were truly saddened to see that he had passed. Larry was an honest, hard working guy who would go out of his way to help you, which he did for us on more occasions than one. I enjoyed talking with him, and admired him for living a full life and helping others despite his own problems. Larry will be missed by all who knew him, and the community will be less well off for not having Larry there when pump problems arise.

“ I meet Larry 2 Weeks after we moved in. About 3/01. The well pump died, and Larry made an emergency trip to help us out. He understood the tuff spot we were in and worked with us. Over the years Larry showed us ways to save some money long term. He always was a mans man. Friendly,Helpful,and to the point. We're gonna miss him.
