“ My Dear Brother Lou,

As we stood by your bedside all holding hands, with our eyes full of tears, we held your hands and stroked your hair watching you just lay there. Without a smile or a laugh in sight, we knew that this was to be your last fight. We talked about all the good old times, and for us they will never fade. We wanted you to feel the Love that we felt for you each day. We watched your every breath, and prayed it wasn't the last. The time we got to share together went by far too fast...

We prayed that you would wake up, and be your same old self. We were there by your side holding hands as the tears streamed down our faces, as we knew by then this was to be our last goodbye. We did not want to believe it, this was not fair...As we held your hands we we're not ready to have to say those words, but in our hearts we understood that you'd no longer would be suffering and finally be at peace. What it meant to lose you, no one will ever know. As we leaned over you with the tears streaming down our faces, we kissed you and said I love you and had to walk away. That was the hardest thing we ever had to do, but it was time that we needed to say...

"Lou Dear Brother Good Night"

We will hold you close within our hearts and there you will remain, to walk with us throughout our lives until we meet again. Sleep tight now our precious brother you will be missed more than words could ever say. Your loving warm smile and that laugh of yours, will remain with us forever.

Shine brightly each night Our Star good night.

Love you & Miss you ❤️

I am so sorry!! Lou was an easy going great guy..a fun football teammate at JT and a great halfback. I blocked for him at right guard.. Lou would gain 1,007 yards his senior year...and stood above as our MVP. He just loved to get out there & play football on Saturdays at JT. So Sorry to all who will miss this good man. WKN

“ Dear Brother Lou,

You are and always will be a dear Brother. Even though we may not have seen one another a lot over the years we still knew we loved and cared about one another.

The world may change from year to year, and our lives from day to day, but the love and memories we have shared will never pass away. As we say, those we love don't go away, they walk beside us every day, unseen, unheard but always near. Still loved, still missed and very dear. God has you in his keeping and we have you in our hearts.

Your Sister, Bette and Brother-in-law, John
