“ Dearest Andrew, Good morning sahetewrt. I know this finds you well in repose with our Lord Jesus Christ. It's a bit colder today than yesterday, but then, it's still winter, and with other parts of the NE buried in snow and cold weather, we shouldn't worry too much about our 47 degrees here in Charlotte. Talked to Matt yesterday and he told me about your friends' gathering at the beach close to where you used to reside. 32 lanterns did they light up to float up in the air till they dissapeared, a celebration for your birthday, and a remembrance of how you touched so many hearts and young lives as yours. We're getting CD copies and pictures of this celebration and we can't wait to see and enjoy it ourselves. I also talked to Nicole. She told me that she celebrated your birthday by going with her friends to the air and space museum at Dulles/Reston. One of your favorite places, Nicole tells me. Andrew, like mom and I, Nicole is hurting. We want her to heal and we'll help her along. Like us, she misses you dearly, and as I promised you that we would help each other and our friends, mom and I will do our best to help Nicole heal. We love her dearly and she's now our daughter in your spirit and love. I'm sure that's what you would want her to do, and move on. I've submitted all of the appropriate paperwork to deal with your accounts, merrill lynch, BofA, Wachovia, and Sallie Mae. All is well, no problem, so please no more worries about earthly things. Enjoy in our Lord's heavenly presence, and pray and look over us, your loved ones. We'll see you this afternoon. Gotta help uncle Bob get his tires for his SUV. We love and miss you dearest Andrew, so very much. mom and dad
