“ Maureen often spoke of family. You could sense the feeling of pride and joy she had toward her family. Maureen never had a bad thing to say about anyone. Maureen was full of enthusiasm. We spent many days and many summers at the pool. That is where I met her sisters. What a beautiful family. We had many conversations. Maureen was such a pleasure to be around. That is why news of her illness made us so sad. I first noticed something was awry a few years ago. I wanted to broach the subject but respected her privacy. Maureen never let on that anything was wrong. I will miss you. Gone but not forgotten, too soon. Miss you, Mark

“ Maureen and I met while working at CFCS and became fast friends with our similar interests of art, the beach, and going to garage sales and finding unique finds. She always had a good eye for the best treasures. I was dearly miss our friend especially meeting for coffee and bagels on Sundays after church where a group of us meet, talk (and laugh) about just about anything. Godspeed my friend and may God hold you in the palm of His hand.
