“ I send my condolences to the Miller/Radiola family on the loss of Nancy. I had Nancy in 5th grade and she was the only person ever to tell me that I was "very creative." Mrs. Coesfeld rolled on the floor laughing when Nancy said that. I will always remember that infectious smile and wonderful memories. May your memories bring you all some serenity and peace. She is safe now. Nick Paolini

“ I'm so sad that I can no longer look back with you and laugh at all our funny times together. You are irreplaceable and my heart hurts so bad.. Some people really wont understand or even find them funny but to name a few... I remember making cow pants in Home Ec in 7th grade. I remember baking brownies and using vinegar by accident. I remember walking all the way to Marks house from my house super late at night. I remember searching for your cat outside with MaryAlice just to go back in your house and he was sitting there. I remember when you lost your glasses one night and we looked EVERYWHERE until we eventually gave up. The next morning they were laying right on the grass where we had been looking forever. I remember us yelling "I don't give a .." to each other from different floors in my house . I remember you leaving for Canada in the summer and spending everyday together until you left.. I remember sending each other a million videos while you were there, almost like snapchats. I remember our love for reeses. I remember your fatty stack. I remember how small your hands felt when you held mine, it always made me laugh. I remember Alysha crying bc she was so bored and us crying laughing together on my bed. I remember coming home from Joeys at like 5 am and making sandwiches and drinking coffee. I remember all the times your huge butt split your jeans. I remember the time I stepped in water and you were sleeping so I gave you my wet sock and took your dry one, when you woke up you weren't even mad, we laughed so hard. I remember the countless times you would speak in an English accent. I remember your obsession with chap stick. I remember you wearing your belt buckle to the side. I remember being stuck in a rip tide in ocean city and chris brown had to save us. then we walked 10 blocks in the wrong direction so we had to walk 20 back. I hear your laugh in my head repeatedly. I would do anything to hug you one last time but I already feel you with me. You'll be my GF forever.

“ Nancy was a shining light at Frutta Bowls Princeton. She was truly a good soul, caring, funny, hardworking and will be missed by my husband and I and our team. We will hold her memory near and dear our hearts and wish her family comfort and peace as they come to terms with this sudden loss. We will remember her smiling, laughing and loving each day she spent with us. We consider ourselves very fortunate for that. She was a blessing. May she rest in peace.

“ I could share so many memories of Nancy but I can’t think of any particular one because so many of them make me smile. Any little thing we did could become a hilarious story because of Nancy. The best memories I’ll keep close to my heart are those where we laughed until we were crying. I’ll never forget any of those memories and I’m so grateful to have had her as a part of my life.

“ When Nancy was about 6 years old she came to work with her mom one day. She said to me, do you like my outfit? I dressed myself today. I said to her, honey, you look beautiful but you have on 2 different socks. That day I nicknamed her "2 Sock" and she just smiled that beautiful smile of hers. The name stuck with her throughout the years. I will remember you and love you always my little "2 Sock". Jacqueline Cloke-Soules
