“ While most 16 year old girls in my day were renting halls and planning elaborate parties for their sweet sixteen birthday, I wanted nothing more but to celebrate in New Jersey with my Aunt Pat and favorite dogs Scow and Rhubarb. This makes perfect sense you see as I was her favorite niece, yes, even when I found out she said this same thing to all her nieces, I know I was her true favorite, LOL! My Aunt always told me the truth, like when I was being rude to my mom, or when I was just being a "dope" and I am definitely better for it for sure.

I'll never forget the candy cabinet, chicken with Italian dressing (used that one last night), stuffed shells, High Life Ponies, salty Pretzel rods and rice pudding! All great memories. I'll miss you Aunt Patty.

“ Some of my fondest childhood memories were made up at my Aunt Pat's house. Playing on the swing set out front, fitting my hand into my cousin's hand prints in the cement as I grew, the visits from the black bears on the back porch, the litters of puppies in the closet, learning how to do a back flip off the dive at the lake, her sweet Springer Spanels to play with, the amazing experiences at Action Park she made happen, I could go on and on,... sometimes all the cousins come up together.. so memorable being with family like that... Pat was not only my Aunt but also my Godmother who made me feel very special and in return I made sure to have a special part for her in my wedding in acknowledgement of how special she was to me. I always loved her quick, thou sincere phone calls, checking in with me and always sharing a laugh, making sure I knew she was always there for me if I ever needed her. Those loving gestures meant the world to me and I will greatly miss her.

“ Pat was a terrific sister whom I loved dearly. I was the baby in the family and never let her forget it. When our mother died, my three sisters all took over the role of grandmother, or Nana to my son Jeremy. I loved all my sisters but Pat held a special part of my heart and I will miss her very much. So thankful I had you in my life Pat. Loved you so much and will miss you. Jeopardy and 1111 will always remind me of you.
