“ Steven, So many memories of you, during your life, your abundant energy as a child, engaging smile, the sometimes mischevious look in your eyes, always repectful, always polite, and love for the New Jersey Devils. Mere words are not enough to express mine and my families sorrow for your untimely passing. I promise I will remember you in prayer, the memory of you cast forever in my mind. I promise you I will help your Mom and Dad, who are very long and dear friends, your sister and brother who, along with you, I love and consider an extension of my own family. You were God's child First. I am honored to have known you, Steve. Rest in peace til we meet again in Heaven.

Love, Greg, Pat & Colin

“ When I think of Steve, all I can see is him laughing and joking around as an 8th grader in Mrs. Caufield's class. I haven't seen him in years, and yet his passing has left a void and sense of loss that comes from losing a dear childhood friend. Steve, my prayers are with you and I will always see you smiling in my heart. To his family, your son was a wonderful boy, and I wish that I, and everyone his life would have touched, could have known him as a man and known everything he had had to offer.
