“ I had spoken with Tom a few times when I had hall duty. One day I noticed and I commented on his artwork honoring the memory of the terrorist attack on the World Trade Center. He was very talented! He must have remembered that because one day, he saw a student mouthing off to me while I was making my hall duty rounds. He approached the student and said, "She's a nice lady. Knock it off." And that was that. I just learned of his passing today. I am feeling so sad for his family. I won't forget Tom.
